Working from her studio in a former farmhouse in Naarden, Dutch sculptor Judith Wiersema creates timeless bronze sculptures that quietly blur the boundaries between art and interior. Her artistic journey began with the female form—powerful, vulnerable and deeply personal. Over the years, her work evolved into a more abstract language while remaining rooted in emotion, craftsmanship and material.

Today, her sculptures inhabit private residences and carefully curated interiors, where they become an integral part of everyday life.

THE BROW LIGHT

BODY//BOUND

A sculptural centrepiece where light, form and atmosphere become one.
Handcrafted in bronze
or aluminium, each piece carries its own unique character.

INTERIOR

Over time my work gradually became more abstract. Eventually I felt the need to create objects that could be lived with. What never changed was my fascination with material and the human hand. Today, my work becomes part of the spaces we live in, where sculpture, light and everyday life quietly come together. Bronze. Aluminium. Patina. Light. Every material tells its own story.

THE NUN

Inspired by the quiet silhouette of a nun's habit, The Nun celebrates the beauty of restraint.
